I am writing in strong support of Dr. [Applicant's Name] and their application for the EB-1A visa category as an individual of extraordinary ability in the field of deep learning. I serve as the Head of Machine Learning at Amazon Web Services (AWS AI), where I oversee the development of scalable AI systems for enterprise and consumer applications.

Dr. [Name]'s research on large-scale neural language models and model compression has had significant influence on industry practices. Their published work on knowledge distillation, cited over 3,000 times, has become a foundational reference in designing resource-efficient inference systems for production environments.

In addition to their academic contributions, Dr. [Name] has collaborated with several industry labs and open-source communities to disseminate their research. Their GitHub repositories have been starred thousands of times and are regularly forked by ML practitioners implementing their methods in the wild.
